THE CONDITION OF THE PORCE ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Hall Last Night-Speeches by W. L. Wilson, Gen. Rob't White and Mr. Hammond-Republican Rallies.

There was a very large and respectable meeting at Washington Hall last night, which was addressed by W. L. Wilson, Esq.; of Jefferson county. Mr. Wilson was escorted to the hall by the Young Men's Hancock and English Club and Kramer's band. Col. Kinberly called Col. White to the chair, who in a few words about the speaker and more about the "auperb soldier," introduced Mr. Wilson. Mr. Wilson is a slight built and rathergood looking man, on the "sunset side" of forty. He began by saying that six years ago the people of the United States voted a want of confidence in the Republican party, which had it been done in England would have denosed the party in power at once, but as the American people more more slowly, two years more clapsed, when an overwhelming vote lapsed, when an overwhelming vote gain put them out by law, but they disregarded it and they have now been in power two years under the law and four years in two years under the law and four years in defiance of it. The horrible condition of the country under "Radical rule" espec-ially in the South during the process of re-construction, the extravagance of the party, the outrageousness of its conduct had incensed the people until the had incensed the people until they had arisen in their might and placed the purse of the Nation in the hands of the Demoarisen in their might, and placed the purse of the Nation in the hands of the Democracy, and the good times of the present are entirely attributable to the prolicy of the Democratic party. Returning Boards, Electoral Commissions, tyrants, hythology, amedotes and a choice reperioire of Democratic roorbacks then followed. Centralization, a Nation with a big N, were played for all that was in them, and in short there was no stone left unturned to show up the bideousness of the party that was ruining the Solid South, had always done it, had done it before the "wash" and would forever continue to do so. We have neither space nor time to devote to the effort of the gentleman. It was but a repetition of the hackneyed and threadbare statements heard at every ward meeting in this city any night in the week, but to the credit of the speaker we will say that it was all told in better language and in a less offensive way than it is usually served here.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr Wilson was sleeted as bosons speech Mr ilson was elected an honorary member the Young Men's club on motion of ajor Alderson.

Major Alderson.

Col. White made a neat little speech, ol. White made a neat little speech, gave way for the speech of the ning, which was delivered by R. W. Hammond, of Brooke county. Hammond, naturally a good speaker, in one of his happiest mode, and this auditors in one roar from the e he began until the roar overcame. The enthusiasm of that genuius Demitte audience was pleasing to see. The him. The enthusiasm of that genuius Dem-oratic audience was pleasing to see. The Indies waved their handkerchiefs, the boys were convulsed, and the men shouled ustil the "plice," who were chewing pea-nuts in the vestibule, came in to see what was the circus.

usti the "piec, who were thewing her nots in the vestibule, came in to see what was the circus.

Mr. Hammond said "there was a harmony in relations," but whose relations he failed to specify. The thrilling scenes of the Congressional Convention were next adverted to by the speaker and the lessons learned at said convention.

The speaker also congratulated the Democracy of this city upon the presence of the "ladies who were brave enough to grace a Democratic meeting. I was brutally assaulted a few days ago by a Steubenville gang of Radicals, but I can say this that in the battle of Willow Springs the Wellsburg Guards conducted themselves worthly and did what was expected of them, and to-day I carry a wound received in that engagement. I nominated a gentleman at the recent Congressional Convention, in this city, but when Colonel Ben Wilson was nominated, I laid down my trophies, and said:

"th well smen!"

"Ah, well, amen!"

"Go in Ben. Go in Ben."
"We all know that this State will go for fancock. We all know that Ben Wilson Then the crowd, unable to control itsel longer, arose en masse and with one im-pulse moved toward the door. The speech was received with unfelgned enthusiasm, and with its close the meeting adjourned CHARLES DAVIES IN WHEELING.

THE ISLAND REPUBLICANS.

The young ladies of Republican proclivities on the "Garden Spot" have purchased a beautiful flag, which they prod pose to present to the Seventh Ward Garileid and Arthur Club. The presentation ceremony had been announced to take place this evening, but owing to the meeting in the Fifth ward to-night, the State Executive Committee requested that the meeting should be postponed. Accordingly, at a meeting held last night, the club resolved to postpone their demonstration until Friday night. On that evening the clubs from the other wards will join the Island boys in a parade, and the Republicans over there, who make us a large proportion of the population of the ward, will decorate and illuminate for Tomorow and Saturday nights "Our Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."
